Victim Information Form

The Saving our Sons and Daughters Program Administrators may find it necessary to contact the persons(s) that are considered victims in your case. We take all emergency protective orders, restraining orders, stay away and any other type of court orders very seriously. We are obligated to report any known violations and such actions will be taken while you are an active member of our program.

You are required to share the current or last known information for any of the victims in your case. Failure to share known or proper information will be shared with your probation officer or governing agency. Misleading or inadequate information or any evasive acts or omissions on your part could be considered misconduct and subject you to probation violation or security of the governing agency.

Do you have an active: EPO TRO STAY-AWAY ORDER OTHER (Another Type of Court Restriction) If you checked OTHER please explain:
